Are You Typecast? You Should Be
By Robert Orren

There is a term in the entertainment world that usually carries a negative connotation. That term is "typecast." Being typecast means that a particular actor/actress is only hired for certain types of roles because they only seem to fit the mold for a certain character type. In extreme cases, certain actors can never seem to move on from a specific character he has played in the past.

But although the term itself carries a negative connotation, the irony is that someone can only be typecast if he or she has done an excellent job playing a certain role. For me, I can't hear the voice of Clayton Moore without thinking of The Lone Ranger. I can't see Adam West without thinking of Bruce Wayne/Batman (sorry if I gave away the secret identity).

Now here is the question for you. When people hear you speak, do they automatically think of Jesus? What about when they see you in certain circumstances? Is Jesus the first person they think of? Paul says in Ephesians 5:1 that we are to be imitators of God. In 1 Corinthians 11:1, Paul said that he himself was an imitator of Christ, and he implored the church to join him in doing so.

Of course, a true imitation of Christ is more than just "playing a role." It is genuinely living a life. Are you living that life in such a way that people see Jesus and His church? If not, you should be.

"Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father in heaven." Matthew 5:16

Have a great week!
